

INFORMATION BRIEF

CMJV are excited to announce that from Monday the 4th March we will be using LAAMP as our new Learning Management System and eLearning Platform!

Site access will still stay in Pegasus, but all other learning, including inductions, must be completed in LAAMP.

Please find below information that will assist everyone with the transition.

What is LAAMP and where can I find information on it?

LAAMP is a modern learning and assessment management platform which can be downloaded to any device to allow for learning on the go.

My workers were already in Pegasus, will their details now be in LAAMP?

Yes and No, any workers at CMJV that have entered site within the last 8 months will automatically get a new profile in LAAMP and log in details were sent to the individuals in mid March. If your workers have not received their log in link, please reach out to copp_training@peabodyenergy.com

Do I still need to create a profile in Pegasus for new starters?

Yes, we still need the profiles created in Pegasus for site access and site access requirements (Standard 11 and Coal Board Medical) must be uploaded to their profile.

Do I still send the induction request through Pegasus?

No, once the CMW profile is created, the new induction booking process needs to be followed. Additional information on that process will be attached to this brief or can be requested by email Copp_training@peabodyenergy.com

Do I have to fill out ALL of the induction booking sheet?

Yes, we require all of the columns to be populated with the CMWs details and their job role onsite in order to create their profile and assign required roles in LAAMP.

As a company administrator, can I upload the CMWs SOAs/Licences into LAAMP?

Training within LAAMP is assigned by job role requirements and needs to be driven by the CMW. Each individual has the ability to upload their own SOAs/Licences to ensure they are compliant. Company administrators will not have the access to do this on their behalf at this stage.
